MEET NOODLE

Hi, I'm Noodle!

I'm an exceptionally sweet, mature, adventurous, and curious 4-year-old boy who enjoys taking walks or just lounging around with my human friends. I'm also quite intelligent, playful, and lovey. While I can be a bit excitable and bouncy, I promise that once you get to know me, my charming and gentle nature will surely win your heart. I'd make a wonderful companion to someone who enjoys large breed dogs with so much love to give. Please consider adopting me!

Six tips for your next driving vacation

Modern professionals are working more and taking fewer days off each year. Allina Healthcare estimates that more than 765 million vacation days are unused by Americans each year. One of the reasons people often give for not vacationing is that travel costs too much. A 2024 summer travel report from Deloitte Insights found that after two years of strong gains in the travel sector, Americans were planning fewer trips in 2024 than a year prior, with travelers indicating the high cost of travel as their reasons for staying home.

A driving vacation, otherwise known as a road trip, can reduce the cost of travel and may amplify the fun. These tips can make for a safe, enjoyable and memorable trip.

- Get a vehicle checkup. If you'll be relying on your personal vehicle, then it is best to ensure that everything is in good working order. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration offers a Recalls Look-up Tool to check to see if your vehicle has any critical safety issues. It's also best to make sure that tires are in good shape and filled to the manufacturer's recommended pressure. Double check all fluids and get an oil change if it is close to the time of service.

- What's the destination? Some people find that road trips are fun even without a predetermined destination in mind. A handful of smaller stops can make for a fun, spontaneous trip. Maybe you want to drive a classic roadway like Route 66? Or take to a scenic coastal roadway like the Pacific Coast Highway or Route 1 along the eastern seaboard? Choose a destination that suits your budget.

- Consider a travel club membership. Membership in programs like AAA or AARP enable members to get discounts on various travel services, such as car rentals or hotel stays. Members may be eligible for percentages off on meals at popular restaurant chains. Membership in these programs may help to save money.

- Plan early. Spring and summer are popular times to travel, particularly during weeks when children are off from school. It's important to book campgrounds or other lodging well in advance if you're planning to visit popular places like national parks and other tourist-heavy areas.

- Be realistic about mileage goals. Some drivers may be on autopilot and fall into commuting habits of trying to get from point A to point B in the least amount of time. Slowing down to take in the scenery can make a trip more enjoyable. AARP also says to be mindful of the personal needs and abilities of drivers. Sharing the load of driving can make it possible to cover more miles in less time.

- Hit a few quirky or local attractions. The best way to see the country is to take in what's unique along the way. Although a stop at a popular fast food chain might save time, it won't offer the same memories as visiting a local haunt or roadside attraction, such as Carhenge in Alliance, Nebraska.

Road trips can make vacationing possible for people who find the cost of traveling by other means prohibitive.

Cedar Bend Humane Society's adoption center is under construction

Cedar Bend Humane Society (CBHS) is currently undergoing renovations and announces an adoption special running through June 15. As part of the Under Construction Adoption Special, the adoption fees for all animals over six months old have been reduced to just $25. All animals are up to date on vaccinations, micro-chipped, and spayed or neutered. Please note that some exclusions may apply, and all adopters must complete an adoption application.

CBHS launched the Under Construction Adoption Special as the adoption center is currently undergoing renovations to install new flooring and dog kennels. With limited space available, we aim to find loving homes for as many animals as we can during this time!

Our progress is your gain! The existing kennels are between 12 to 15 years old and are showing signs of wear and tear. It's time for new dog housing, and thanks to VGM Group, Inc. and the

Be The Change movement, we can kick off this project! During this period of reduced kennel space, we encourage anyone thinking about welcoming a pet into their family to adopt!

To learn more about each available pet, visit the adoption building or view them online at www.cedarbendhumane.org/adopt. The adoption building is still open to the public while under construction, no appointments are necessary. For further information regarding the adoption special, contact the adoption department at 319-232-6887.

Cedar Bend Humane Society is an open-admission, full-service animal shelter in Black Hawk County, Iowa. CBHS accepts any animal in our care regardless of age, breed, behavior, or health. Once in our care, animals placed on the adoption floor have no time limit on how long it takes to be adopted, and every effort is given to find them a loving home.

Eight games to try at the next backyard bash

Games can enhance any outdoor function. Whether at the beach or in one's backyard, activities can keep guests entertained in between the food and other refreshments. And the good news is that most games designed for these types of functions are appropriate for players across a wide range of ages.

The following are eight games that can add to the excitement of any outdoor gathering.

1. Ladder toss: Also known as ladder golf, this game requires players to toss string-attached balls onto a ladder-shaped target. Points are awarded depending on which rung the ball lands on.

2. Kubb: Pronounced "KOOB," this Swedish lawn game believed to have originated during the era of the Vikings and is best described as a blend of bowling and horseshoes. Two teams compete to knock over their opponents' wooden blocks by throwing batons.

3. Cornhole: Many people have played cornhole, which involves tossing bean bags at the cornhole board. The objective is to get the bag into the hole or on the board to score points. The game can be played as singles or doubles. The first team to reach 21 points wins.

4. Spikeball™: Also called Roundnet, this two-on-two sport is played by hitting a ball off a net with the goal of preventing the opposing team from returning the ball within three touches.

5. Ring toss: This is another game that tests hand-eye coordination. Players take turns tossing the rings onto the target pegs. Each peg is worth a different number of points. The first player to reach the agreed-upon amount of points wins.

6. Connect four in a row: Giant versions of familiar tabletop games also are available for yard use. With this game, players need to get four chips in a row, either up and down or diagonal.

7. Kan Jam®: Similar to cornhole or horseshoes, Kan Jam® features two teams of two that alternate between throwing a frisbee and trying to deflect it. The goal is to get the frisbee into the can.

8. Rollers: Goals are placed 25 feet apart and then players roll wooden discs to try to get closest to the goal. Each side of the disc has a different number to determine the point value.

Backyard events can be enhanced with some game play. There are plenty of fun options for your next gathering.
